BOOKSTORES

Though MPH is widely known as a haven for bookworms, it also serves as a regular hang-out for visitors of all ages with plenty to see and do beyond books.

Catering to the changing needs of shoppers today, MPH has introduced a section within the store dedicated to gift and stationery whereby products here include arts and crafts, basic stationery, fancy stationery, educational toys and personalized gifts. Aply named ESP4U.COM, this section houses all things quirky, exclusive and fun that one may buy for a loved one or for themselves, for any and every occasion.

Another eye-catching area is the digital section set up to offer visitors a chance to try out e-book readers and other cool gadgets. Customers may also browse at the selection of e-books available at MPHONLINE.COM, the web store for those who prefer shopping online or for books that are not found in the store.

There is so much to do and see at MPH Bookstores where it is more than just a conventional shop selling books. Find books of various genres from business to leisure; meet your favourite author in person and get their autograph; join in the fun storytelling sessions with your children; find stationeries to help you get organized; impress your loved one with unique gifts; check-out e-book readers and other swanky electronic gadgets – it is all here at MPH Bookstores, where a visit is an enriching experience beyond knowledge.
